"Purple Iris,
Streaked with amethystine memories of the night,
Health-glossed and firm as are the ripe wings
Of oriental butterflies--"

Michael Strange.

This list of Irises is presented in full confidence that it represents in a very unusual degree the finest varieties of recent introduction. The selection very largely was made by one of the leading Iris connoisseurs in this country, an Iris lover who repeatedly has sought the original sources of fine Irises by personal visits to the most notable gardens of Europe, England and America, who has made a special study of the "rainbow flower" during many years and who has made a most noteworthy success in promoting the distribution of the really fine varieties.

VISITORS are always welcome during the flowering season, which is usually from the middle of May to near the end of June. In addition to a large planting of fine Irises, there are more than 100 Peonies of the finest named varieties and a large collection of Oriental Poppies which are always a great attraction.

Terms: Cash with order. Remittances may be by check, money order, bank draft or registered mail.

On orders for specified varieties amounting to $5.00 or more, 5% discount will be allowed; on orders for $10.00 or more, 10% discount, and on orders for $25.00 or more, 20% discount from prices quoted.

Orders will be filled in rotation as received. Early orders are highly advisable, as stocks of some varieties are very limited. Shipment will be made as soon as possible after the blooming season, beginning about July 1st. Shipments containing not more than 20 rhizomes will be sent postpaid. Larger orders may be by express, either prepaid or charges collect at our option.

We do not substitute unless requested to do so, and will refund any amounts paid for varieties that we are unable to furnish.

Underscored varieties are included in the list of 53 best varieties for home planting, regardless of price, selected by the Commercial Peony and Iris Growers' Association.

Please do not ask us to fill orders amounting to less than $1.00.

"In their gowns of crinkled silk
Golden-banded, ranked in order,
Brilliant as the sunset fire is,
Black as bull's blood, white as milk;
Stand within our garden border
Troops of Iris." Susan O. Moberly.

The Iris well deserves to be called the garden flower of America. And it has been voted our most popular garden flowers by the members of the Garden Club of America. With its dainty refinement and with the delicate poise of the Orchid, it presents a wider range of coloring, will withstand more neglect and abuse and will thrive under more widely varied and less favorable conditions than any other garden flower. But it is at its best if planted in rich, well drained soil and in a position open to full sunshine.

Said the lamented B. H. Farr, in speaking of this wonderful "flower of Light", "Mysterious as the opal with its ever-changing fire, its marvelous structure more wonderful than the Orchid, so fragile as to be crushed by the slightest pressure, its beauty seems wholly ethereal, making you dream of far-away things--like the smoky clouds at dusk, or the rainbow glistening in the sun. If you yield to the magic spell of the Iris, it will lead you across the border into a wonderland of delight."

SEEDLINGS FOR LANDSCAPING. For some years we have been raising seedlings, using only our best varieties as seed parents. These seedlings present a splendid array in various colorings, representing all the types of bearded Iris. Many of them are fully equal to varieties which have been introduced within three or four years but too nearly like them to be listed as new commercial varieties. They are just the thing for landscaping, or where a large show of flowers from a moderate investment is desired. While they last --

(Transplant in August and September only)

I well remember with what a spellbound thrill I first beheld the exquisite splendor and barbaric magnificence of the huge, scarlet cups of Oriental Poppies. Their luxuriant foliage, the brilliant coloring of the large flowers, and their striking contrast with other garden flowers, make a few clumps well nigh indispensable in the well-balanced garden.

The following list includes varieties in the red, pink and rose shades and tints which have proven their worth by extensive trial.

The most beautiful of all dark red Oriental Poppies is Lula A. Neeley which also is one of the most recent introductions. Its excellent color, freedom of bloom and erect habit entitle it to a place in the front rank of Oriental Poppies.

Acting on the kind suggestions of my friends, Dr. Neeley, and Lee R. Bonnewitz, I hope to introduce in one or two years a seedling Poppy originated in my own garden. It is a vigorous grower, of true Oriental red coloring, splendid cup shape and excellent substance, and entirely without any black at the center. I have measured individual blooms that were more than nine inches across.
